

5. Botswana

Comments transmitted to the Secretariat in writing, 24 January 2014:

Botswana has not provisionally applied any treaty, but the Constitution of Botswana does not prohibit the provisional application of treaties. The process to be followed for provisional application of a treaty would be the same as the process followed when Botswana seeks to become a party to a treaty.