Mr. Jean Allain
Professor of International Law
Monash University and the Wilberforce Institute, University of Hull

Jean Allain is based within the Faculty of Law, Monash University, Australia; and is Professor of International Law with the Wilberforce Institute of the University of Hull, UK. Since 2008, he has been Extraordinary Professor with the Centre of Human Right, Faculty of Law, of the University of Pretoria, South Africa; and, from 2015 to 2019, Prof Allain was Special Adviser, Anti-Slavery International, the world’s oldest human rights organisation. He led the development of the Bellagio-Harvard Guidelines on the Legal Parameters of Slavery – see his edited 2012 The Legal Understanding of Slavery (Oxford University Press) – and has published a trilogy of books related to slavery with Martinus Nijhoff/Brill: the 2008 The Slavery Conventions: The Travaux Préparatoires, the 2013 Slavery in International Law, and the 2015 The Law and Slavery. He received his doctorate from the Graduate Institute for International Studies (HEI) of the University of Geneva and clerked for the first President of the International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia, Antonio Cassese.
