

MR. DANIEL D. BRADLOW

SARCHI Professor of International Development Law and African Economic Relations, Centre for Human Rights, Faculty of Law University of Pretoria

Daniel D. Bradlow is SARCHI Professor of International Development Law and African Economic Relations at the University of Pretoria and Professor Emeritus at American University Washington College of Law in Washington, D.C. He was previously the first Head of the International Economic Relations and Policy Department at the South African Reserve Bank, and Professor of Law and Director of the International Legal Studies Program at American University Washington College of Law in Washington, D.C. He has also served as the Chair of the Roster of Experts for the Independent Review Mechanism at the African Development Bank, an expert member of the African Commission on Human and People's Rights Working Group on Extractive Industries, the Environment and Human Rights; Co- Rapporteur, International Law Association Study Group on Responsibility of International Organizations; a member of the Board of Directors of New Rules for Global Finance, the Executive Council of the American Society of International Law, the Advisory Boards of the Financial Regulation and Human Rights Project; Law, Social Justice and Global Development Journal; American University International Law Review and Sustainable Development Law and Policy. He was previously a member of the High Level Panel on the Governance of the Financial Stability Board, an Advisor to the Global Initiative on Fiscal Transparency, a Senior Special Fellow in the Legal Aspects of Debt and Financial Management Programme of the United National Institute on Training and Research (UNITAR), and a consultant to numerous international organizations including the World Bank, World Commission on Dams, the Commonwealth Secretariat and the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development and a member of the International Law Association's Committee on Accountability of International Organizations. He has published numerous books and articles on topics that include public international law, the international law applicable to international financial institutions, foreign direct investment law, reform of international financial institutions, global economic governance and the legal issues arising from large projects. A complete list of his publications is available at: <http://ssrn.com/author=283289>