

MR. EMMANUEL GAILLARD

Partner, Shearman & Sterling LLP, Head of the International Arbitration Group and Professor of Law, University of Paris XII

Emmanuel Gaillard has represented major corporations, States and State-owned entities in over 250 international arbitration cases. He has acted as sole arbitrator, party-appointed arbitrator or Chairman in more than 50 international arbitrations. He is also frequently called upon to appear as expert witness on arbitration law issues in international arbitration proceedings or enforcement actions before domestic courts.

Professor Gaillard has written extensively on all aspects of arbitration law, in French and in English. He is a co-author and co-editor of Fouchard Gaillard Goldman On International Commercial Arbitration (Kluwer, 1999), the leading and most comprehensive publication in this field. He teaches International Arbitration and Private International Law at the University of Paris XII. He lectured at The Hague Academy of International Law in the Summer 2007 on The Legal Theory of International Arbitration.

Professor Gaillard is recognized as one of the few worldwide experts on ICSID (International Centre for Settlement of Investment Disputes) and international investment arbitration. He has published since 1985 a yearly feature in the leading French international law journal, Journal du Droit International, commenting on ICSID decisions and awards. In 2004, he published a seminal volume on ICSID arbitration case law entitled La Jurisprudence du CIRDI (Pedone, 2004).

Professor Gaillard is a member, appointed by France, of the ICSID Panel of Arbitrators and Conciliators. He advises the French Government on investment treaty issues. He also appears as an expert on OECD investment panels, and participates as an observer in the works of UNCITRAL (United Nations Commission on International Trade Law) on the drafting of the new UNCITRAL Arbitration Rules.

Among other activities in the arbitration world, Professor Gaillard is the Chairman of the Institute for International Arbitration (IAI), which launched in September 2004 a new series of publications on international arbitration, the IAI International Arbitration Series. He heads Shearman & Sterling's International Arbitration practice.
