ARTICLE 56

TEXT OF ARTICLE 56

All Members pledge themselves to take joint and separate action in co-operation with the Organization for the achievement of the purposes set forth in Article 55.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE

1. During the period under review there were no decisions or discussions\(^1\) that interpreted or referred to Article 56 in a manner which differed substantially from that described in the previous Repertory studies on this Article and which would require a treatment under the Analytical Summary of Practice. The study is therefore limited to an account of the manner in which Article 56 has been referred to in those decisions, contained in the General Survey. Decisions in the economic, social and human rights fields in which reference has been made only in a general way to obligations of Members under the Charter and where no clear connection\(^2\) with Article 56 can be established,\(^3\) are not dealt with in this study, nor are merely incidental references\(^4\) to Article 56 in discussions included.

\(^1\) In its decisions 1983/184 of 29 July 1983, 1985/200 of 26 July 1985 and 1987/179 of 8 July 1987 the Economic and Social Council, \textit{inter alia}, decided each time to discontinue for further periods of two years summary records for its sessional committees (First (Economic) Committee, Second (Social) Committee and Third (Programme and Co-ordination) Committee).

\(^2\) It is to be noted that since Article 56 contains a general pledge relating to the achievement of the purposes set forth in Article 55, it cannot be said with certainty that the pledge in Article 56 has not been taken into account in those decisions or discussion in which only a general reference has been made to obligations of Members under the Charter. See the Repertory, vol. III, study of Article 56, footnote 1.

2. The types of action taken for the “achievement of the purposes set forth in Article 55” are dealt with in the Repertory and its Supplements under Article 55. Questions concerning the relationship of Article 56 to domestic jurisdiction and to reports on steps taken to give effect to recommendations of the General Assembly and the Economic and Social Council on economic, social and human rights matters are dealt with in the Repertory and its Supplements under Article 2 (7) and Article 64, respectively.

I. General Survey

3. As in the past, only a few decisions of the General Assembly and the Economic and Social Council contained references to Article 56. In most cases the reference was made in the preambular paragraphs, whereas in some cases the reference was included in the operative part of resolutions. In two cases reference was made to Article 56 in international human rights instruments adopted during the period under review. All resolutions were made in the context of the achievement of the purposes set forth in Article 55 and related primarily to questions of economic development, social progress, and human rights. In all cases reference was made to the Article through quoting it in part.

4. During the period under review, there was no elaboration of the meaning of the word “pledge” in the decisions of the United Nations. It may be noted that in a decision, which paraphrased Article 56, the words “duty to co-operate”, and “duty to take steps, individually and collectively” have been used.
