

ARTICLE 74

TEXT OF ARTICLE 74

Members of the United Nations also agree that their policy in respect of the territories to which this Chapter applies, no less than in respect of their metropolitan areas, must be based on the general principle of good-neighborliness, due account being taken of the interests and well-being of the rest of the world, in social, economic, and commercial matters.

NOTE

As in the previous years, no decisions have been taken under this Article nor has any practice been developed under it. Reference was made to this Article in 1956 in the Committee on Information from Non-Self-Governing Territories in discussions on international collaboration. 1/

It was pointed out that the international collaboration which existed at present was confined to that covered by Article 73 d. A wider form of collaboration between Administering and non-administering Members was covered by Article 74. Such collaboration, it was suggested, might take the form of technical assistance from neighbouring States or participation in regional conferences and would lead to the development of the Non-Self-Governing Territories within the context of the interests of the region as a whole.
